

MURAL

Below the photographs, there are several columns of text, likely providing information or descriptions related to the images. The text is arranged in a structured layout, possibly as a list or a series of paragraphs. There are also small circular icons or logos interspersed within the text columns.