MURAL
JUNIO 2024

The corkboard is densely packed with photographs and short text blocks. The photos depict various scenes: groups of people in meetings, construction sites, agricultural fields, and community gatherings. The text blocks are small and appear to be captions or brief reports related to the images. The overall layout is organized into several vertical columns, with larger photos and text blocks interspersed with smaller ones. The board is mounted on a light-colored wall.
